For Natasha & Darren - It’s looking more and more like HOME

Natasha and Darren’s home has grown from the ground up!! Their home is being built in partnership with We Build, a vocational training facility creating opportunities with incarcerated men to learn professional construction trades. This mutually beneficial program allows inmates to learn fine woodworking skills by building framed walls, roof trusses and cabinets for Habitat for Humanity homes across Colorado. For Natasha and Darren, the walls are up, the roof is on and doors and windows are in! It is so nice to have natural sunlight flooding into the home and to see the sky. Rough-ins are complete and the rooms are taking shape.

Tim Dellett pedals Habitat 500

My oldest son, Ira, was born in July 2015. He started going to daycare in Alamosa when he was just 6 weeks old and was in Natasha’s care at least 4 days a week. Natasha became a trusted part of our community. Just as raising a child takes many loving hands and lots of teamwork, so does building the foundation, walls, and roof of a house. Natasha cared for Ira and with gratitude, I’m dedcating my ride in the Habitat 500 this year to her and her husband and their new Habitat Home where they will raise their children. Natasha was a valuable partner in Ira’s early life and as a reflection of that relationship, I invite each of you to partner with me by sponsoring my ride as I pedal in the Habitat 500. ~Tim Dellett
